And that's how easy it is to charge the electric car!

Of course, we also offer you the possibility to charge your electric car while on the road. In the Northern Black Forest there is already quite a number of electric filling stations provided by the local energy supplier ENCW.

Attached please find an overview!

You will be provided with an ENCW charging card which you can use to activate the charging process at all ENCW charging poles. All the necessary information can be found at the charging poles. The electric filling process is free for you! Please make sure to charge the vehicle on time. With the quick charging function, you will have 80% of the battery power available within an hour. Please refer to the information provided in the manual of our electric car.

The team of Tourismus GmbH Nördlicher Schwarzwald wishes you lots of fun driving silently and pollution-free through the beautiful valleys and heights that our region offers you.

SERVICE STATIONS – PLEASE NOTE

Should you like to extend your driving pleasure outside our region, you will find your nearest electric filling station on the following websites::
